Mission

INTERAÇÕES is a scientific journal published by the Graduate Program in Religious Studies of the Department of Religious Studies – PUC Minas. It has the mission of disseminating Religion Studies and Theology and its related areas.

Objectives

- a) To be an instrument of interdisciplinary debate between national and international researchers in Religious Studies and Theology area, aiming to interact the acquired knowledge and contribute to the consolidation of this field of studies of religion.
- b) To disseminate the intellectual production of researchers, teachers, and postgraduate students in the area and related areas, preserving rigor and quality.
- c) Stimulate, promote, and contribute to the development of the exchange of scientific production in Religious Studies and Theology areas at national and international levels.

INTERAÇÕES is a scientific journal with an interdisciplinary nature and its target audience is researchers, teachers and graduate students in the Religious Studies and Theology areas and its related fields. It welcomes contributions in Portuguese, Spanish, French, Italian and English, such as articles, communications and book reviews. The papers received are sent to an external evaluation – articles are evaluated by two ad hoc consultants (Double Blind Review system); the Communications are evaluated by one ad hoc evaluator.
