Commitment

The Electronic Journal of the Law Course – PUC Minas Serro, Brazil, with a continuous flow since 2010 and biannual publication, seeks to promote legal scientific work and related areas, in an interdisciplinary manner, with the purpose of contributing with scientific products that present a critical reflection of the world using the tools of science.

As a mission and commitment, the Magazine aims to hold discussions and build knowledge on various aspects that permeate legal reflections, in a dialogical movement with cross-cutting themes that mainly permeate Law.

Through the dissemination of unpublished national and international scientific works carried out by student and teaching researchers, the aim is to build an interdisciplinary dialogue that presents new ways of thinking about the Brazilian legal system.
