Mission

INTERAÇÕES is a peer-reviewed academic journal edited by the Graduate Program in Religious Studies, within the Department of Religious Studies of PUC Minas. Its mission is to disseminate scholarly research in the fields of Religious Studies and Theology, as well as in related areas of the study of religion.

Objectives

- a) To serve as a platform for interdisciplinary debate among national and international researchers in the fields of Religious Studies and Theology, aiming to disseminate acquired knowledge and to contribute to the consolidation of this field of religious studies.
- b) To disseminate, while preserving academic rigor and quality, the intellectual production of researchers, faculty members, and graduate students in the field and in related areas.
- c) To stimulate, promote, and contribute to the development of scholarly exchange in Religious Studies and Theology at both national and international levels.

INTERAÇÕES, ISSN 1983-2478, is an interdisciplinary scholarly journal whose target audience includes researchers, faculty members, and graduate students in the fields of Religious Studies and Theology, as well as in related areas of the study of religion. It publishes contributions in English, Spanish, French, Italian, and Portuguese, including articles, communications, and book reviews. Submitted manuscripts undergo external peer review: articles are evaluated by two ad hoc reviewers under the double-blind peer review system, while communications are evaluated by one ad hoc reviewer.
